Some solar energy is reflected into space. Solar energy travels through the atmosphere and is absorbed by land and oceans. This energy is turned into heat. Most of this heat is trapped by greenhouse gases. The more GHG’s, the more heat is trapped.